JR Cape is a modern international management consulting firm with offices in Europe and Asia.

Our main focus is the executive search field, with our consultants having specific expertise in cross-border recruitment assignments.

Our mission is to provide exceptional professional services to every single client and bring „The perfect match“ to their organizations.

JR Cape makes a difference.

Our client – a leading global integrated logistics company with head office in Europe, more than 1,000 offices worldwide and a very strong market position in Asia Pacific – is currently looking for an addition to their team in Singapore as

Manager Operations / Regional Supply Chain Management

In this exciting role you manage and support our customers` supply chain in all areas of logistics and transportation, in a regional dimension.

The incumbent will be responsible for ensuring project management and operational execution, with a keen eye on process optimization.

In close cooperation with our local teams as well as our respective key accounts the Manager Operations will directly take care of all key matters relevant to the involved business processes and smooth overall operation.

With the clear understanding of regional developments and specific local requirements in transport and logistics it will be an integral part of the role to gather and use critical information and market intelligence to develop new processes and to drive optimization efforts as well as standardization projects ahead. Further, close follow-up with the regional team members – in order to safeguard best operations practices being used and executed – and to meet defined customer requirements will be key factors of the manager`s success in this position.

As a professional equipped with a university degree, preferably in logistics or business, you have gathered at least 7 years of relevant work experience in the integrated logistics industry (includes warehousing, freight, SCM) in Asia.

In addition you have been in team or department management functions with budget responsibility in the past years. Project management skills and process optimization know-how related to supply-chain management are crucial for this position.

You have developed strong team leadership, organizational, training and motivation skills and regard yourself as an analytical and flexible manager. As a specialist in supply-chain management you enjoy working with multinational teams and a diversity of customers from different industries, throughout Asia Pacific.

Due to our international company environment and the regional scope of the role, English fluency is required; additional Chinese language skills would be a definite plus.

You are capable of using process flow visualization and common office software tools.

Friendliness, self initiative and efficiency are just some of the attributes highly valued by our client. Market know-how, cultural awareness, strong interpersonal skills and willingness to take on challenges will be necessary assets to succeed in this regional role. You should be able to set clear targets and be critical about goal achievement and total customer satisfaction.

If you are a hands-on operational manager and – meeting the stated requirements – feel that this international career opportunity is the right step for you, please send your application to singapore@jr-cape.com .

We guarantee fullest confidentiality and equal opportunities in the application and recruitment process. However, only closely matching candidates will be contacted and considered in the pre-selection process.
